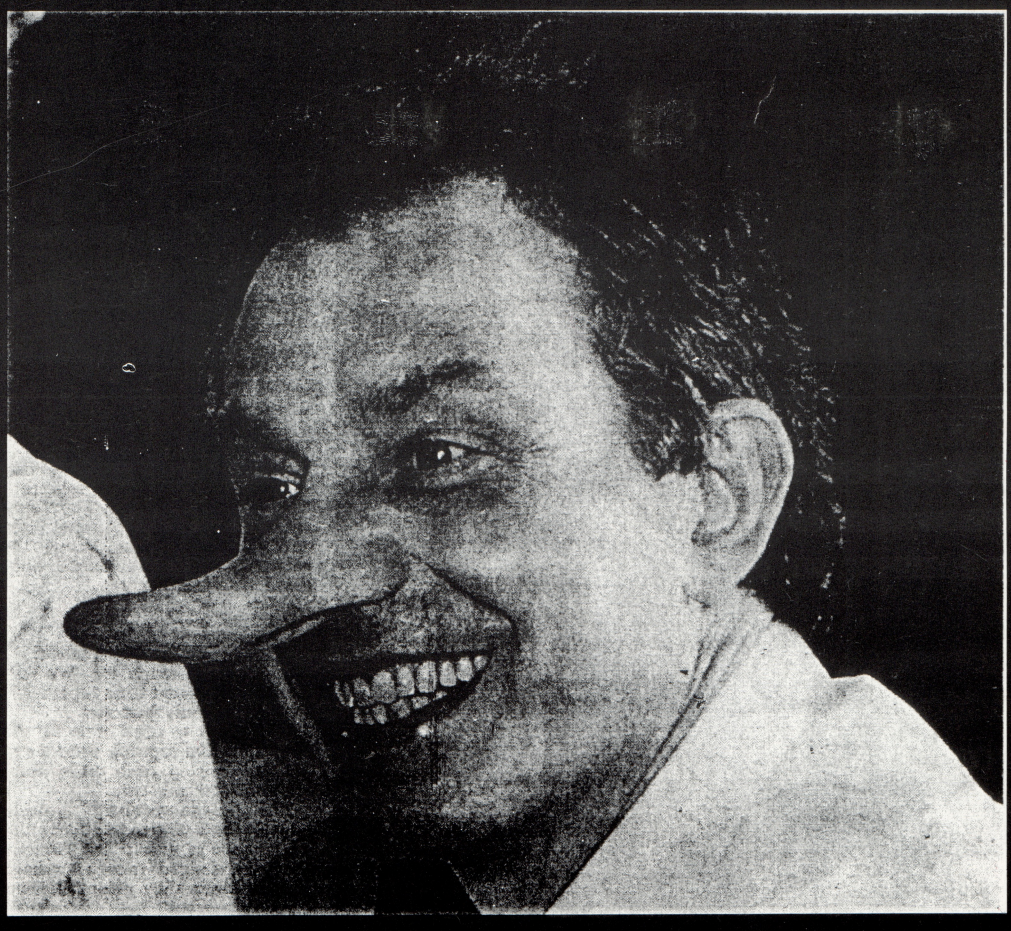
BLAIR LIED



BRITONS DIED

Editorial — Autumn 2003

A Simple Answer

A cake and biscuit making company in leafy Surrey was raided by immigration officials who arrested 101 of the company's 175 employees for working illegally. Of these 92 were asylum seekers and 9 had illegally overstayed on visitors permits. The owners of the company, The Cookie Man now face fines of up to £50,000. This they felt was unfair and a company spokesman complained "how can we check on whether the workers are legal or illegal? We just can't tell".
We have a simple answer, Employ British Workers!

Another Waste of Your Money

The young Iraqi boy, Ali Abbas (pictured below) was a victim of an American bombing raid on his home. US bombs killed his father and mother and his older sisters. Ali had his arms and legs blown off in the raid. After receiving medical attention from US medical teams in Germany, Ali has now come to Britain to have further treatment and to have false arms and legs fitted. Ali then intends to stay in Britain and be educated here.
Would it be churlish to ask, if the US was responsible for Ali's plight then why the US isn't providing for his future. Or is it further proof that Britain is just a soft touch?

Blair LIED and Britons DIED

"Dictators like Saddam, terrorist groups like Al Qaeda, threaten the very existence of the world. That is why I have asked our troops to go into action tonight". British Prime Minister Tony Blair's declaration of war against Iraq: March 20th 2003.

With those words Tony Blair sent over fifty British servicemen to their deaths in Iraq. Now with their blood on his hands he will go down in history as the Prime Minister that sacrificed British lives on a lie!

Several months before dispatching British servicemen to Iraq, and many to their deaths, Blair had began his campaign to justify such a war by insinuating that the Iraqi regime of Saddam Hussein had chemical and biological weapons which could threaten British interests and could be deployed "within 45 minutes of the order being given". He was lying!

Blair also insinuated that the Muslim terrorist group that had attacked the World Trade Centre, Al Qaeda, "was receiving shelter or support from the Iraqi regime". He was lying!

On the eve of war he deliberately phrased his speech to create the impression that our troops were going to Iraq to fight a threat to Britain from both Saddam Hussein and Al Qaeda.
There were no weapons of mass destruction. There was no threat to Britain or its interests and Al Qaeda was not tolerated by the Iraqi regime. We went to war on a lie!

The United Nations weapons inspection team led by Hans Blix spent months in an exhaustive search of Iraq and failed to find any indication of nuclear, biological or chemical weapons. But, Bush and Blair chose to ignore their findings in their determination to go to war.
Since the official ending of the war, a 1,200 team of chemical and biological weapons experts from the United States, Britain and Australia has been assembled under the title the, Iraq Survey Group. The group have been given unprecedented access and resources to search the country for the weapons of mass destruction that Blair insisted would be found. Blair was lying! No such weapons have been found.

In the last issue of League Sentinel we revealed that a United States covert operations team made up of ex-military personnel was inserted into Iraq by the CIA in an unsuccessful attempt to plant "evidence" of WMD's.
Now, according to some sections of the media Blair has dispatched a team of troopers from the Special Air Service (SAS) into the Iraqi desert to find (or plant?) evidence of banned weapons.
Accusations of duplicity and lies have also been levelled against the Prime Minister by his old cabinet colleague, Robin Cook MP. Adulterer Cook, was better known previously for dumping his wife at an airport so he could run off with his mistress, but even he was so sick of Blair's barefaced lies to Parliament and the British people, that he has refused to keep silent.
Cook's well publicised revelations that Blair knew that there was no threat to Britain from the Iraqi regime, no "smoking gun" weeks before we went to war has surely destroyed Blair's credibility forever.

For whilst Blair has survived lying about large donations from motor racing moguls, lying about British passports for Asian millionaires, lying about tax increases and lying about the number of asylum seekers pouring into Britain, the lies that cost Britain over fifty of her bravest men, sacrificed on the altar of Blair's ego, cannot and will not, be forgiven.

In Memory of those sent to their deaths by a lying Prime Minister, Tony Blair.

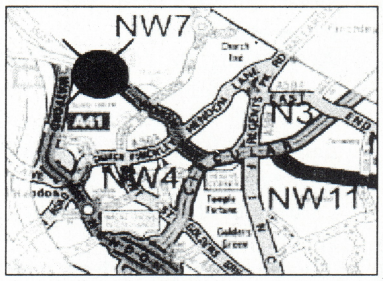
North London

Jewish Ritual "Faith Barrier" Attacked

The Eruv or "faith barrier" erected by Jewish zealots in North London has been attacked and damaged by a local resident.

The Eruv, an area symbolically enclosed by a construction of thin wire supported by 30 foot posts has been erected in the Hendon area of North London. Local feeling against the construction have been running high as the construction enclosed not just Jewish families but those of Christians and Muslims as well.



A local non-Jewish resident, James Pettican, aged 60, decided that the thin wire was a threat to wild birds, and an insult to non-Jewish residents of the area, and threw a piece of string weighted at one end over the Eruv wire and pulled it down. Somewhat alarmingly, it transpired that Mr Pettican's criminal activity was being secretly monitored by a specialist security company from the back of a parked van. The "spooks" were employed by the shadowy, Community Security Trust, the sinister para-military group of questionable legal status, which is the "operational arm" of the Jewish Board of Deputies. Members of the security company followed Mr Pettican to his home nearby and then called the police.

In court Mr Pettigen admitted damaging the wire because of the threat to wildlife, (criminal damage) but incredibly was found guilty of racially aggravated criminal damage, presumably because the wire was Jewish owned. Magistrates sentenced him to 60 hours community service.

The court case revealed that the Community Security Trust had secretly set up hidden cameras at various points around the Eruv perimeter. Whether planning permission had been applied for was not made clear, nor whether the resulting surveillance footage would be subject to the Data Protection Act. Local residents should be alarmed to discover that they are now under 24 hour surveillance by a group once described by the respected author and historian, David Irving as being a "secret Jewish militia".

Pensioners Accuse Chief Constable of Racism

A group of pensioners in Warwickshire have been threatened with legal action after they accused their local Chief Constable of racism. The pensioners, calling themselves the English Awareness Party, were upset by the decision of the Chief Constable to form a local branch of the Black Police Officers Association, without providing the same facility for white officers. To publicise their opposition they took out an advertisement in three local newspapers which read,

> Chief Constable Forms Black Officer Group
> He and his Inspectors being racist against English people, the White Awareness Party is being formed to protect English culture and our nation.

The Chief Constable responded by demanding, and getting, a grovelling apology from the Leamington & Warwickshire Review newspaper group, for publishing the paid advertisement.
This was followed by a letter from Mrs Katharine Grasby, County Solicitor and Assistant Chief Executive of Warwickshire County Council to the pensioners group threatening legal action if they repeated their comments in public.
At no time has the Chief Constable or Mrs Grasby attempted to explain why it is not racist to have a Black Police Association, when a similar facility a similar organisation for white police officers neither exists or is planned.

Another campaigning pensioner has been threatened with prison for council tax arrears. Veteran nationalist Robert Relf, has been deducting £8 per month from his council tax bill as it is this amount that his local Thanet Council allocates to providing services for the thousands of Asylum seekers that occupy this part of Kent.
Bob Relf told magistrates. "I've not been paying that amount because it is ear-marked for the scumbags who are flooding into England from the four corners of the world".

Mr Relf was imprisoned last year for a month for not paying the full amount of council tax and looks certain to repeat the experience again soon. Mr Relf has been imprisoned in the past for contempt of court, failing to complete a census form and for sending offensive postcards to senior police officers.
Seventy-nine year old Mr Relf is rumoured to be on first name terms with most of the warders in his local Canterbury prison.

NEWS AROUND BRITAIN

More Than Half of All Doctors Struck Off Are From Overseas

A shock report has revealed that for the second year running more than half of the doctors struck off the medical register for serious professional misconduct originated from overseas. The report, prepared by the independent Policy Studies Institute, revealed that 58% of doctors charged with serious professional misconduct had qualified in countries other than Britain and were three times more likely to be found guilty of serious professional misconduct than UK trained doctors. Serious professional misconduct includes dishonesty, criminal behaviour and dysfunctional behaviour.

Official figures show that 30% of doctors working in the NHS qualified abroad.

A spokesman for Patient Concern said that the figures gave rise for serious concern as often patients lives could be put at risk by doctors who are unable to speak English adequately. Another fear was that some doctors were working in Britain because they could not get jobs in their own countries.

Two Labour MPs Upset British Jews

Two prominent members of the Labour government have upset Britain's "shadow government", the Board of Jewish Deputies of British Jews, over comments about Israel. The veteran Labour MP, Tam Dalyell, who is the parliamentary, "Father of the House" was condemned by the "shadow government" after accusing Prime Minister Tony Blair of being unduly influenced on his policy towards Israel by a "cabal" of Jewish advisors including, Lord Levy, who is Jewish, Peter Mandelson who is half Jewish and Jack Straw, whose grandfather was Jewish. Zionist, Eric Moonman, who is closely connected to the Board of Deputies threatened to report Mr Dalyell to the unelected thought police, the Commission for Racial Equality.

Comments by a Home Office minister, Fiona Mactaggart, comparing the Holocaust with Israeli actions against the Palestinians had the "shadow government" in a rage as they seem to think that the term Holocaust can only be used when Jews are the victims of oppression rather than the oppressors.

Ms Mactaggart comments to the Council for the Advancement of Arab-British Understanding, prompted Board of Deputies member Greville Janner to threaten to write to Ms Mactaggart's boss at the Home Office.

British Charity Funds IRA Terrorists

One of Britain's most popular charities, Comic Relief has admitted giving money to a group supporting convicted IRA terrorists. According to Comic Relief's newly published annual report for 2001-2002 it donated £80,000 to Tar Isteach a Belfast-based group that aids newly released IRA prisoners.

Tar Isteach is headed by Tommy Quigley, a former IRA bomber who received five life sentences for his part in the 1980s bombing campaign in London.

Quigley was regarded as one of the most senior IRA men ever to be jailed for murder. He and his accomplice Paul Kavanagh, murdered two civilian passers-by and injured 23 soldiers and a further 17 civilians in a nail bomb attack at Chelsea barracks in 1981. Quigley was also convicted of the murder of a bomb disposal officer killed trying to defuse one of Quigley's devices planted outside a Wimpy Bar in London's Oxford Street.

At his trial Mr Justice McCowan said he had shown "not a spark of compassion for his victims".

Quigley joined Tar Isteach in 1999 on his release from prison, joining another prominent republican, Brian Keenan, the one-time head of the IRA's Army Council.

The Comic Relief grant went into the terrorist support groups' coffers just a few weeks before another prominent Tar Isteach member James Monaghan, an IRA explosives expert, was arrested in Columbia for allegedly running terrorist training camps.

A spokesman for Comic Relief said that it stood by its decision to award the grant to Tar Isteach but admitted that it had not vetted the group beforehand and was not aware of all of the facts. Comic Relief raised £55 million from its "Red Nose Day" in 2001.

Other groups supported by Comic Relief grants include £60,000 to the Manchester Lesbian Project and £90,000 to a group that provides facilities for "Black prisoners to learn about their cultural identity and history".

Remember that, when you next put on your "Red Nose".

Israel Sends MOSSAD Agents to London

Israeli Prime Minister, Ariel Sharon, frustrated by the refusal of the British government to intern without trial Palestinian militants currently living in exile in London, has ordered Israeli secret service agents into Britain to infiltrate and gather intelligence on those who oppose the Israeli occupation of Palestine.

The Israelis feel that London has now surpassed Paris in sheltering Palestinian militants and have decided to increase MOSSAD presence back to levels not seen since 1986 when it provoked International controversy by kidnapping peace activist, Mordechai Vanunu after he had revealed to the Sunday Times newspaper secret details of Israel's nuclear weapons programme. Vanunu had been staying in London when he was lured to Rome, kidnapped, drugged and smuggled to Israel.

This illegal action severely damaged Anglo-Israeli relationships and the Israeli secret service was forced to massively reduce its presence in London. In fact, it moved its European headquarters to Belgium at Britain's insistence. It has been suggested that Mossad will now revert to London as its European HQ, with the blessing of the British government who are anxious to appease Israeli criticism of Britain's intelligence services failure to identify London-based suicide bomber Asif Hanif who died in an attack in Tel Aviv earlier this summer.

Permission to increase the number of Mossad agents in Britain would ultimately rest with Prime Minister, Tony Blair after consultation with both the Home Office and Foreign Office ministers. A former intelligence analyst told League Sentinel, "While this is technically true, informed sources are suggesting the deal was arranged via the Prime Minister's special envoy, Lord Levy". (pictured right)

The agents would be working under cover as trade envoys and cultural attaches through the Israeli embassy and their diplomatic immunity would offer them the opportunity to be armed without fear of prosecution. Mossad's ruthless agents have caused controversy with a number of high profile abductions and assassinations in foreign countries, and whether "targeted assignations", a frequently used euphemism for murder, will become a feature of their British operation remains to be seen. Certainly they will begin a covert recruitment programme in the Moslem community, so that trusted informants could be planted into radical organisations. This could lead to "false flag" operations where perhaps a bomb attack in London would be conducted in such a way as to be blamed on Palestinian sympathisers, but really implemented by Mossad agents. We must remind those who might think this is a bit far-fetched that in October 2002, at the Court of Appeal in London, the Crown Prosecution Service was forced to admit that the former MI5 officer, David Shayler, was right in saying that the British security services were warned before the 1994 car bombing of the Israeli embassy in London that the building was being targeted by a terrorist organisation, and when Britain's secret service failed to increase security around the embassy a bomb was detonated. To this day, MI5 believe that the bomb was detonated by Mossad agents to embarrass our security services.

Mossad frequently act illegally in compliant "friendly" countries. In Switzerland a five-man Mossad spy team were caught installing bugging equipment in the apartment of a Swiss citizen. Four were released after questioning and immediately left the country but, the fifth, Isaac Bental, who admitted the name, was a cover name, was found with bugging equipment in a diplomatic bag and was arrested. In court he refused to give his correct identity but pleaded guilty to three charges.

1: That he acted illegally for a foreign country.
2: That he conducted political espionage.
3: That he used forged foreign identity documents.

The Swiss prosecutor asked the court for a custodial sentence of at least 15 months. The court imposed a 12 month suspended sentence and ordered Bental to be deported.

In Canada, an official government report outlined concerns over Israeli intelligence services using false Canadian documents to "assume" Canadian citizenship when undertaking operations in other countries. What the report was referring to was an incident where Mossad agents posing as Canadian intelligence officers recruited a Palestinian informant with promises of re-settlement in Canada in return for information on the location of Hamas leader, Sheik Salah Shehadeh. The information was provided by the spy and was used to assassinate the Sheik and several innocent bystanders including children. The Palestinian, now no longer of any use was then betrayed to the Palestinian authority and faces the death penalty for collaboration.

MOSSAD

With Mossad's record of complete indifference to the loss of innocent civilian lives, British citizens could easily become "collateral damage statistics" thanks to Blair's inability to say no to the shadowy Zionists that hold so much power in Britain.

John Tyndall Expelled From BNP

The veteran nationalist and former Chairman of the British National Party, John Tyndall has been expelled from the party that he helped found in 1982.

Before formally convening the disciplinary panel an attempt had been made to mediate and find a compromise between BNP chairman, Nick Griffin and Mr Tyndall but, according to Mr Tyndall the terms of the proposed compromise was unacceptable to him.
Following the breakdown of negotiations, a disciplinary hearing held in Essex in early August and Mr Tyndall was expelled from membership of the BNP.
Mr Tyndall attended the hearing having been notified that he was to be charged with seven alleged offences.
These were as follows...

That he had given away BNP property without authorisation.

That he had engaged in subversion against the BNP.

That he had promulgated known lies.

That he had incited others to cause disruption of the BNP.

That he had slandered Tony Lecomber.

That he had slandered Nick Griffin.

That he had collectively slandered the party leadership.

During the course of the hearing four of the seven charges were withdrawn.
A four-man disciplinary panel heard details of the charges from BNP national official Tony Lecomber.
At the conclusion of the hearing the panel decided that Mr Tyndall was guilty of two of the remaining three charges, namely that he had slandered BNP chairman Nick Griffin and that he had slandered BNP national official, Tony Lecomber.
Given his long and loyal service to the party, we feel sure that all BNP members will be glad to hear that Mr Tyndall is no longer being accused of subversion or inciting others to cause disruption of the BNP. It is hard to imagine him attempting to inflict damage to the party that he has made so many personal sacrifices to support over the past two decades.
The next step is unclear at the moment. In his personal publication, Spearhead (which BNP members are banned from reading) Mr Tyndall says that he has taken legal advice and is considering taking the matter to the High Court in an attempt to get reinstated and until a decision has been arrived at he is unwilling to comment on the panel's decision. But in a formal statement he urged,

1: "In no circumstances should anyone resign membership of the BNP or influence others to do so. Least of all should anyone consider taking part in a breakaway party. These matters must be resolved within the BNP, and they will be."

2: In no circumstances should anyone reduce the effort or support given to coming BNP activities, in particular important ones like pending local government by-elections and, a little further on, next year's local government elections and elections to the European Parliament. Everyone should campaign as hard for the BNP as in the past".

Footnote: As we go to press we have heard that Mr Tyndall has decided to take legal action, and will be launching a fund to cover his legal costs.

Former BNP Chairman John Tyndall urges members to stay loyal to the party and to "keep a cool head".

More Electoral Success for BNP

The British National Party's battle for acceptance and recognition took another step forward with two more successes in local council by-elections.
David Exley became the BNPs third councillor in Yorkshire by winning a seat in Heckmondwicke. The ward had never been contested by the BNP before and was forecast to be a victory for the Lib-Dems, but at the count everyone was astounded when the BNP candidate won by 114 votes. The Labour candidate finished fourth.
Another victory was achieved by Nick Geri in Grays, Essex. Nick fought a tireless campaign in what historically had been a safe Labour ward, and was rewarded with a majority of 172 votes over the nearest other candidate, a Conservative. Labour was pushed into third place some 178 votes behind the BNP.

ASIAN THUGS BLIGHT BRITAIN

"The Asian community makes an immense contribution to the life, economy and culture of this country"

Prime Minister, Tony Blair. London 1997

Since the British Prime Minister praised the immense contribution made to Britain by the Asian community just six years ago his words have rebounded against him. Today, inner cities are plagued by Asian pimps, drug barons and thugs. Ethnic cleansing of whites is a fact of life in parts of Britain's capital and even Labour MPs are raising concern over the impact that over one million Asians are having on life in Britain.

In West Yorkshire, news that Asian men were grooming under age white girls for sex, drugs and prostitution, forced Home Secretary David Blunkett to visit the area to meet concerned parents.

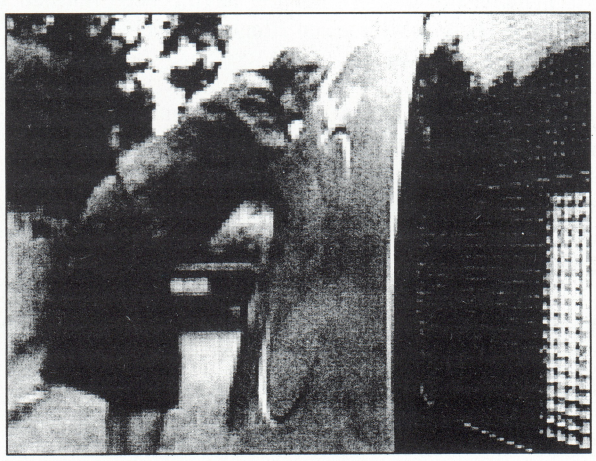
The parents fears were supported by the local Labour MP, Ann Cryer who admitted the problem existed and levelled the blame at ethnic cultural values where young Asian men were tied to arranged marriages and were turning to vulnerable young white girls for sex.

Predictably, the left-wing MP has been accused of racism by local Asian "community leaders" but she is standing her ground saying "I am merely pointing out that all the victims of these terrible crimes are white girls and all the alleged perpetrators are Asian men. That is a significant fact and needs to be addressed. Why do these men feel inclined to abuse young white girls"?

Because of the tradition of arranged marriages in Asian culture male Asians cannot form a relationship with women of their own age for fear of offending their own family and that of their future bride who is often living in Pakistan or Bangladesh. Refusal to comply with the family's wishes has occasionally resulted in the murder of the offender for bringing disgrace on the family. Attempts to form unofficial relationships with mature white women are normally rejected as the women realise that there is no long-term prospects of such a relationship because of the betrothal to another. Consequently the unmarried Asian is turning to easily impressed young white girls. The girls, often still at school, are persuaded with flattery, money and drugs to enter into a sexual relationship. They are then passed around to what amounts to a "sex-ring" of older Asians who pay the girls "owner" for her sexual favours. The girls are also forced on to the streets to work as common prostitutes earning money for their Asian pimps.

Superintendent Whyman, of West Yorkshire police admitted that the police were aware that Asian men were targeting schoolgirls for sex. He said that police have already questioned thirty-three schoolgirls and believed that up to fifty Asian men were involved.

He also confirmed that to date only two men had been charged with offences relating to the abuse.



White Schoolgirl Prostitute Working For Her Asian Pimp

It is clearly felt by white parents in West Yorkshire that the failure of the police to prosecute these child abusers is because they are Asian. "In Keighley, Community relations and political correctness are of a higher priority than child protection", one mother told League Sentinel. Two mothers have reported to the police that their daughters, one aged 12 and the other 13 were gang-raped by Asians after being drugged. Although this happened over a year ago, the culprits still have not been charged. Parents have given the names of 57 Asian men involved in the sex-ring to the police with no response. The local Bradford Social Services department refuse even to acknowledge that there is a racial aspect to the abuse. Again, political correctness rules.

"All of the victims are White girls and all the alleged perpetrators are Asian men. Why do these men feel inclined to abuse young White Girls?"

Ann Cryer. Labour MP. Keighley. West Yorkshire.

Parents and white youths are now threatening vigilante type direct action against the abusers of their children. A position that we heartily support. Remember ... "We Must Secure The Existence Of Our People And A Future For White Children".

Ethnic Cleansing Hits London

Whilst Tony and Cherie Blair value "the richness and diversity the Asian community brings to Britain" whites living in the Tower Hamlets area of East London are experiencing a spate of violent attacks against them by Asian thugs which are clearly designed to drive them from the area.

Cherie Blair Enjoys Asian Culture

At the height of summer a white owned pub in the heart of what was once called Spitalfields, since renamed by the local Labour council, Banglatown, was badly damaged in an arson attack. Eight petrol bombs were aimed at the pub after the landlady refused demands by Asian thugs to "get out of our area". Local police chief, Mandy Beacher, conceded the bombing was a racial attack. She told the local East London Advertiser newspaper, "There is no other motive. It is a white pub in an Asian area". Not satisfied with this terror attack, five Asian thugs confronted the pub landlady, Ann Butler as she left a nearby restaurant a few days after the attack and threatened her with a gun. "We want you out of here. You don't belong here anymore", Mrs Butler was told.

"This was a Racial Attack. There is no other motive. It is a White pub in an Asian area".

Detective Inspector, Mandy Beacher.

The Brick Lane area has attempted to transform itself into a haven for trendy whites to wine and dine but, two white tourists from New Zealand will take back home a different view of London. The two, a 22 year-old and his 16 year-old cousin had just left a restaurant in Brick Lane when they were attacked by a gang of Asian youths who told the tourists, "This is our street, you whites have no right to be here". The thugs then attacked with broken bottles and planks of wood. Both tourists were later treated in hospital. Police confirmed that they are treating the incident as a racist attack. In this racially sensitive area, where whites are the ethnic minority, and police seem to be answerable only to "community leaders", it is not surprising that there have been no arrests to date.

The ethnic cleansing campaign against whites continues in nearby Bethnal Green. A 50-strong gang of Asian thugs have targeted a white family living in a flat on the Bancroft estate. The hate campaign started with verbal abuse such as, "white scum" and "honky", then the family car was vandalised. The harassment escalated when Asian youths tried to force their way into the family home, but were beaten back by the family. In the latest incident graffiti has been painted on the front door carrying the ominous threat ..."GET OUT WHITE SCUM OR DIE". Similar threats were painted on the walls of the building. The householder, who is too terrified to be named, told League Sentinel, "I have complained about the racial abuse and harassment numerous times to the housing manager and have applied for a transfer, but nothing has been done. The local council are quick to threaten eviction if a white family is seen to racially abuse black or Asian neighbours, but being a white victim means nothing here".

The local police chief, Detective Chief Inspector Dave Osbourne confirmed that the family had been the victims of a number of racially motivated offences and said that the police were taking the race-hate crimes very seriously. But again, in an area where "community relations and political correctness" appears to be the main priority for the police, no arrests have been made. The campaign to terrorise the family into leaving their home has been going on for over two years. Names of the thugs have been passed to both the police and the local council, but still nothing has been done!

Whilst Blair and New Labour continues to "value the immense contribution to the life, economy and culture that the Asian community in Britain", and not address the blight on the lives of native Britons that Asian culture has brought, then young white girls will continue to be raped and abused by Asian paedophiles, and white families will continue to be driven from their homes by Asian thugs.

Who will stand up for Britain? Certainly not New Labour!

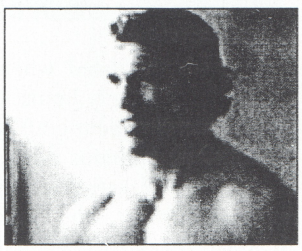
Schwarzenegger Grovels His Way to Power Despite "Nazi" Smear

The Austrian-born actor, Arnold Schwarzenegger has been successful in his bid to become governor of California despite a smear campaign by some of his opponents. Allegations of sexual misconduct were mixed with accusations that his father, Gustav Schwarzenegger, had been a member of the Austrian National Socialist Movement in 1938 and had volunteered for service in the German army in 1939.



Arnold Schwarzenegger (pictured right) quickly distanced himself from his father and grovelled to US Jewish community leaders about his shame of having a Nazi father, he also made several speeches during his election campaign about the Holocaust and his unswerving support for Israel.

In fact, Schwarzenegger jnr had nothing to apologise about his father's activities. Gustav Schwarzenegger's wartime record shows that he fought with distinction during the invasions of Poland and France, and was lucky to survive a spell fighting on the Eastern Front during the siege of Leningrad. He was wounded in 1944 and honourably discharged from service.

The immensely powerful Jewish lobbies in the United States known as Political Action Committees, PAC, have at last been forced to release figures detailing their political donations to Congressional candidates.

The figures reveal that between 1978 and 2000 1,732 political candidates, both Republican and Democrat received between them a total of over $34 million US dollars in "donations" from PAC. Although denied by candidates, donations are granted on the strict understanding that if candidates are elected then they will give their wholehearted support to Israel in debates and votes.

Since the establishment of the bandit state of Israel in 1948 successive US governments have donated a total of $82 billion dollars in aid to Israel.

Austria

A 52 year-old engineer has become the latest victim of Austria's draconian law on Holocaust denial. Wolf Fröhlich, a former member of the Freedom Party was sentenced in Vienna to three years imprisonment for writing several pamphlets questioning the numbers allegedly killed during the Holocaust.

Wolf Fröhlich pleaded not guilty, claiming "that history was a constant process of investigation and revision".

His lawyer, Herbert Schaller said that he will appeal both the verdict and sentence.

The British historian and author, David Irving has been informed the ban on him entering Germany has been lifted. The decision, apparently made by the German Office of Administration, was relayed to Mr Irving in a letter from the German Foreign Ministry. No explanation for the lifting of the ban was made and the whole decision seems a mystery considering that just a few years ago, German officials were requesting the British government to extradite Mr Irving to face charges of racial incitement.

Malaysia

The Malaysian Prime Minister, Mahathir Mohamad, (pictured left) told a summit of Islamic leaders that "Jews rule the world by proxy" and the world's 1.3 billion Muslims should unite, and defeat the Jews by non-violent means. He also told Islamic leaders from 57 nations that "The Europeans killed six-million Jews out of twelve-million (he obviously isn't a revisionist) but today, the Jews rule the world by proxy by getting others to fight and die for them". In what could be seen as a call to create an Islamic nation Mahathir told his audience of Sheiks, Emirs, Kings and Presidents, "For well over half a century we have fought over Palestine and what have we achieved? Nothing. We are worse off than ever. But, if we had paused to think then we could have devised a plan, a strategy that can win us final victory".

He then went on to suggest how Islamic countries working in unison could use their considerable financial power and economic tactics, rather than violence to cripple both the Israeli state and those that supported it. Given this threat to Israel, it can only be a matter of time before the Israeli puppet, George Bush adds Malaysia to his "hit" list.

Secret Talks Held in Washington to Plan Pumping Iraq's Oil to Israel

Reports of a secret meeting held in Washington between members of the US installed puppet government of Iraq, officials from the US State department and Israeli Infrastructure Minister, Joseph Paritzky to discuss pumping oil directly from Iraq to Israel have been leaked on the Internet.

At the secret meeting plans were formulated for the new puppet government to grant permission for the reconstruction of an old pipeline which runs from Iraqi oil fields near Mosul to the Israeli port of Haifa and was in use until the end of the British mandate in Palestine in 1948.
The pipeline was redirected to flow into Syria once the state of Israel came into existence.
Confirmation of the plans has come from a former CIA official who stated, "It has long been a dream of a powerful section of the people now driving the administration of George Bush and the war in Iraq, to provide Israel with a safe and inexpensive supply of oil. The pipeline was something that existed, was resurrected as a dream, but is now a viable project". The US Corporation, Bechtel, who have already been given a multi-billion dollar contract by the Bush administration for rebuilding projects in Iraq, is also expected to win the contract for rebuilding the pipeline.

Bush: Secret Plans for Iraq's Oil

The next step, according to the same source is for the Iraqi government to formally recognise the state of Israel and to sign a peace treaty with the bandit state.
The plan would also require agreement with Jordan and the US is willing to pay "transit fees" to allow the pipeline to be routed partly across Jordanian territory. The source also revealed that talks had taken place with Jordanian officials in Amman in April this year. An alternative plan, which was also been discussed, is a completely new pipeline running from Iraq to Aqaba, in Jordan which is then directly opposite the Israeli port of Eilat. Either plan suits the US and Israel as it will give them guaranteed supplies of Gulf oil and in particular make the US less reliant on Saudi Arabia, which the US fears is becoming anti-Western. It will give Israel a cheap supply of oil on its doorstep, whereas it currently imports oil from Russia, and it will direct the Iraqi oil away from Syria which is probably the main threat to Israel in the Middle East. The US-based, Bechtel Corporation, has in the past had links with the US Defence Secretary, Donald Rumsfeld, one of Bush's most hawkish advisors and a long time friend of Israel.
Those like us who have claimed that the Iraqi war was motivated by US and Israeli greed for oil are now being proved correct.

4000 March to Honour Hess

Over 4000 European nationalists joined German Comrades to honour the memory of the former Prisoner for peace, Rudolf Hess. The march took place through the Bavarian city of Wunsiedel, where Hess is buried.

Delegates representing nationalist groups from Britain, Denmark, Holland, Flanders, France, Austria, Croatia, Switzerland, Slovakia, Romania, Sweden and Italy marched to commemorate the life and the murder of the man who sacrificed his freedom in an attempt to bring peace between European brothers.

An attempt by Jewish organisations and extreme-left groups to have the march banned by the German courts was unsuccessful, as was an attempt by communists to physically prevent the march from taking place. A group of about 300 anti-Fascists initially tried to block the marcher's route, but ended their-day sheltering behind police lines for protection.

Conspiracy Theories Abound Over Death of a Jewish Student

The family of a British student are calling on German police for a fresh investigation into the circumstances surrounding the death of their twenty-two year old son who died after attending a meeting organised by US nationalist, Lyndon La Rouche.

The student, Jeremiah Duggan, was studying at the world famous Sorbonne in Paris, when he met a man selling an anti-war edition of the political journal, Nouvelle Solidarité, which is produced by the US nationalist, Lyndon La Rouche. According to Mr Duggan's French girlfriend, Maya, he was impressed with the anti-war policies of Nouvelle Solidarité, and agreed to travel to Wiesbaden in Germany to listen to Mr La Rouche address a three-day conference at the Schiller Institute. Certainly Mr Duggan attended the conference and according to his father, who he telephoned on the second day of the conference, he had even managed to ask Mr La Rouche some questions. Then the mystery begins.

According to Jeremiah Duggan's mother, Erica, two days after the conference had concluded, her son telephoned her at her North London home at 5.30am and said, "Mum, I am in deep trouble, Nouvelle Solidarité, I want out. I don't want anymore". Then she claims the phone went dead. Mrs Duggan says she then telephoned Maya, who was still in Paris, and that Maya told her that Jeremiah had also contacted her and said he had "found some very grave things, and would be leaving Wiesbaden the following day". Later that morning, Maya also claims that she received another telephone call, this time from the man that Jeremiah had met in Paris and who had accompanied him to Germany saying that "Jeremiah has run off". At 3.30pm two Metropolitan police officers arrived at Mrs Duggan's home in Colindale and told her that her son was dead. He had committed suicide.

German police at Wiesbaden reported that at 6am that morning Jeremiah Duggan was seen running along a main road just outside Wiesbaden, he was running almost in the middle of the road. He was hit by a car, knocking the car's wing mirror off. He continued running and a few minutes later he ran in front of another car and killed. A third car on this fast busy road then ran over Duggan's body.

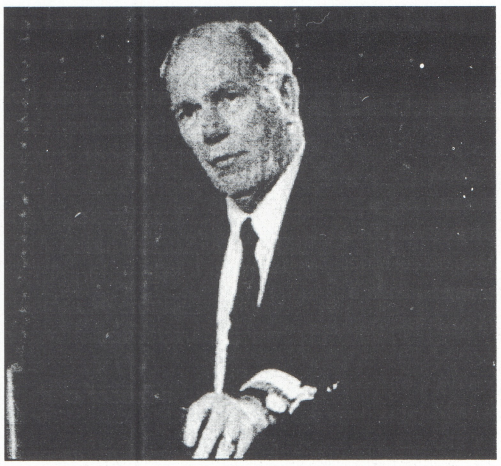
The German police investigation concluded that Duggan had committed suicide.

Back in their North London home Duggan's parents refuse to accept this explanation. They claim to have information that their son may have been murdered.

Mrs Duggan claims that an unnamed source has told her that whilst at the Nouvelle Solidarité conference, and during the discussion on the war on Iraq, someone blamed the Jews for being behind the war, at which point Jeremiah Duggan had stood up and announced, "But I am a Jew"!

This and the telephone call to Maya about finding out "some very grave things" led Mrs Duggan to the conclusion that her son did not commit suicide, but was murdered.

It seems likely that in her grief, she is now being cynically manipulated by extreme Jewish organisations such as the US based, Anti-Defamation League who has long regarded Lyndon La Rouche as an anti-Semitic "bogeyman".



Lyndon La Rouche

In fact, Mr La Rouche is a wealthy American publisher, and a candidate for the 2004 Democratic Party Presidential nomination. He is also a man who is very "clued-up" about Israel. One of Mr La Rouche's publications is the internationally respected, Executive Intelligence Review. Through this publication, Mr La Rouche has often attacked the relationship between powerful men in the White House and their co-religionists in Israel. He has described Henry Kissinger and Paul Wolfowitz as "Utopian military lunatics" and accused them of helping to engineer the war on Afghanistan and Iraq. He has been to the forefront of exposing the Anti-Defamation League's illegal spying on US citizens, and accuses them of being "the chief apologists for the atrocities of Ariel Sharon and the Israeli Defence Forces". Even more worrying for Israel, Mr La Rouche has called for President Bush and all of the Presidential candidates to join him in sponsoring an immediate full inquiry into the circumstances surrounding the sinking of the USS Liberty by Israeli forces during the 1967 Arab-Israeli war. The USS Liberty was attacked "in error" by first Israeli warplanes and later by Israeli torpedo boats near the Sinai Peninsula. Israel later apologised and paid compensation to the relatives of the 34 US dead. Recently emerged evidence suggests that the attack was not an error but a deliberate act, and Mr La Rouche's campaign for a full public inquiry is being strongly opposed by the US Zionist lobby.

Any opportunity to demonise Mr La Rouche as an anti-Semite or involve him in a murder investigation would suit the Zionists case.

The Amazing Leni Riefenstahl

It was with great sadness that we learned of the recent death at the age of 101, of Leni Riefenstahl, an amazing woman and a skilful and talented photographer. Leni Riefenstahl was the most innovative photographer and film director of her time, and in an occupation dominated by men she forced her way to the pinnacle of her occupation receiving international acclaim for her two iconic documentaries, Triumph of the Will (1935) and the two-part, Olympia in 1938.

Born August 22nd 1902 in Berlin, Leni Riefenstahl began her artistic career as a dancer and toured Europe at the tender age of 22. She soon become fascinated by the relatively new cinematic techniques and with single minded determination she embarked on a new career. Her early films were not a success but her innovative style prompted the recently elected German leader, Adolf Hitler to engage her to produce a cinematic record of the 1933 Nazi Party rally to be titled Victory of Faith.

Hitler was so pleased with the result that she was again engaged in 1935 to produce the now legendary documentary epic, Triumph of the Will. As an everlasting tribute to her skills, the film still amazes those that view it for the first time.

In 1936 she was commissioned by the International Olympic Committee to film the 1936 Olympic Games which were being held in Germany. This two-part film, Festival of Nations and Festival of Beauty was finally released in 1938 after she had personally spent almost two years editing some 250 miles of footage. The completed film was a masterpiece and acclaimed throughout Europe.

OLYMPIA*: Hypnotic Masterpiece of Cinematic Skill

On completion of Olympia she visited the United States and was shunned by the moguls of the Jewish controlled film industry. Only Walt Disney had the courage to defy the film industry's boycott of her and welcomed her publicly into his home.

She spent most of the war working on a film project in Spain. On her return to Germany in 1945 she was arrested by US troops. Three years of house arrest followed before she was eventually cleared of active involvement in German politics.

But, despite never having been a member of the NSDAP she was judged at a de-Nazification tribunal as being a "Nazi fellow traveller" and banned from ever seeking public office.

In the 1960's Leni Riefenstahl re-invented herself as a still photographer and worked to develop this new career. In 1972 she was commissioned to photograph the Munich Olympics and captured some dramatic pictures of the attack by Arab militants on the Israeli Olympic team.

An amazing and energetic woman, she turned to underwater photography, learning to dive at the age of 70.

In 1997 she organised the first commercial showing of her photographs in Hamburg. The crowds queued for hours to view the work of this remarkable woman

Beautiful and Brilliant Leni Riefenstahl

Celebrities such as singer Madonna and actress Jodie Foster both met with Riefenstahl with a view to purchasing the rights to her memoirs. Actress Jodie Foster is now set to produce, direct and star in a film about her life. One can only hope that it will be a true reflection of her life and ideals, rather than an opportunity for Hollywood to smear the memory of this wonderful woman.

On her one hundredth birthday, in 2002, Leni Riefenstahl wrote, "I want to fall asleep, feel well, and then everything ends. Goodbye…That must be very beautiful".

At 2250hrs on Monday the 8th of September, just weeks after her 101st birthday, Leni Riefenstahl died peacefully in her sleep.

To many, Leni Riefenstahl was the physical embodiment of the spirit of Aryan womanhood. Beautiful and brilliant.

She will be sadly missed. RJ

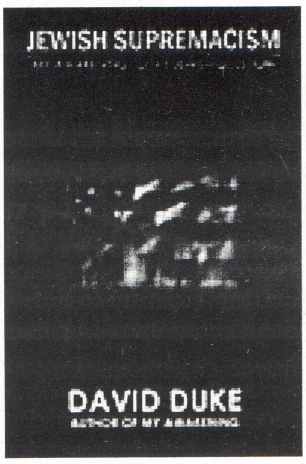
Jewish Supremacism:

by David Duke



Jewish Supremacism* is not anti-Semitic; it simply examines and documents elements of ethnic supremacism that have existed in the Jewish community from historical to modern times. The book investigates the phenomenal power that the Jewish community holds in whatever country it inhabits. A daunting and sometimes dangerous subject, the author David Duke, concedes *"I would be a fool not to realise the danger to my own life, reputation and freedom that I face by exposing Jewish Supremacism".

An explosive book on an intriguing subject and a bargain at just £16.50 inc p&p
